The cost is $30.00, and you must be registered in advance. Please call D Tails ASAP, so you can book your preferred time-slot. This is our first Doggie Fun Zone fundraiser of the New Year! We will be bringing DFZ to Old Saybrook on Saturday, September 5, 2015, and proceeds will go to the Catherine Violet Hubbard Animal Sanctuary in Newtown, CT.

About Sharon Warner

Sharon connects with a pet's energy and shares words, knowledge, pictures, feelings, tastes, and even scents with them. She can connect to your pet's energy without regard to physical proximity. She worked hard to develop this skill, after being taught by an animal communicator, and also discovered the path the energies of all creatures past and present. She can internalize your pet's pain or discomfort to help you and your vet with diagnosing medical or behavioral issues, sometimes even before symptoms become evident.

Sharon also finds personal fulfillment in her ability to offer peace to those of us who have been missing a loved one of any kind, or who need insight into the wellbeing of a passed loved one, or a loved one from whom we have become emotionally disconnected.

Make your appointment now to reserve your time with Sharon and come prepared by writing down all the issues you might want to discuss. Pets need not be present during a session, but please bring a picture of the pet.

Starting in January, D Tails will be offering a “Cookie of the week” dog treat. These cookies will be made with love by Chef Lucky and feature the healthiest, natural and best tasting ingredients for your pup. Check them out on your next visit to D Tails. During January, samples will be available for your pup to try.
