TOLLER NEWS

Guess What? Tukka is pregnant with 8 puppies by Channel! She is due around the week of July 21-July 27. Donna will be having a pool to guess what day and hour they will be born. The chart will be at D Tails. The winner gets to name the first pup, based on their theme, which is brands/kinds of watches. There are a lot of options, so start thinking!

Are you bored with walking your dog at all the same places? Why don't you give Studio 80 sculpture garden a try? It is family and dog friendly. Most of the sculptures are touchable and some are even climbable. There are plenty of shady spots as well. Your dog must be leashed. Parking is available at the Lyme Academy of Art, 80 Main Street, Old Lyme. Read more about the artist and the park here:

Heads and Tails

It's that time again for the Old Lyme Midsummer Festival beginning on July 26. On July 27, at 11:00 am, there is annual Parading Paws Dog Show. You can dress your dog up or enter your dog in the best trick category. Dogs are also rewarded for longest tail, tallest ears, best smile etc. You can see the whole schedule here:

Don't forget that the Goodspeed musical Because of Winn Dixie based on the beloved novel by Kate DiCamillo is in production until September 28. They have many special performances. The dog in the show was trained by local Broadway dog trainer, Bill Berloni. You can find all the information here and a short video on the relationship between the dog and the young actress who plays Opal in the show.
